4101 REV. HENRY FARWELL[9] (Charles Henry[8], Cyrus[7], Joseph[6], Dea. Thomas[5], Joseph[4], Joseph[3], Ensign Joseph[2], Henry[1]), b. in Twinsburg, O., May 17, 1846; m. Apr. 19, 1876, Mary J. Maginnis, who was b. in Nelson, O., June 25, 1854, dau. of Rev. Franklin Maginnis. He d. July 16, 1925.

Henry Farwell was 17 years of age when he responded to a call for troops during the Civil War. Taking his younger brother Arba Porter (see No. 4102h), then 13 years, of age as a drummer boy with him. They were stationed for a time at Johnson's Island, near Sandusky, O., as part of the force guarding Confederate prisoners.

For many years he was a Home Missionary in Kansas, which at that time was in many sections still a wilderness. His duties led him to remote churches and school houses and obliged him to preach several sermons each day. At times he was forced to fight his way through floods and blizzards to reach his sick and dying parishioners. In this helpful work his only assistant was his devoted wife, formerly Miss Mary Maginnis, daughter of Rev. Franklin Maginnis, many years pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of East Cleveland.

His last years were spent at the home in Hudson, in which five generations of the family have lived and whose foundations were laid more than a century ago. It was built of black walnut and cherry wood by David Hudson, founder of Hudson, O., and was in early days one of the most famous taverns and rest houses on the Reserve. The home has an extremely pleasing exterior and the interior arrangement and decoration is of so much artisitic merit that architects and other persons interested in such matters still come—sometimes from a great distance—to inspect the beautiful ceilings and the fluted, hand carved woodwork of mouldings, doors, window casings and mantles.

The first of the Farwell ancestry to occupy it was Mrs. Atlanta Beecher Porter of the noted Beecher family, which included Henry Ward Beecher and Harriet Beecher Stowe.

Rev. Henry Farwell at the time of his death was the second oldest graduate of Western Reserve University.

He was called soldier, preacher, and beloved citizen of Hudson, and known to all the countryside.

5049 V. Leta Alice Seabury (adopted) b. July 17, 1889; d. Mar. 11, 1892.

In her early girlhood, Mrs. Seabury attended the rural school near her home, and in the autumn of 1870, went to the High School of Morrison, Ill. In the spring of 1871 she went to Denison, Ia., and taught school during the summer. In Nov. she was married to Mr. Seabury. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. J. W. Denison, founder of the town of Denison. For eight years after their marriage they lived on Mr. Seabury's farm, three miles east of Denison. In Nov., 1879, they moved into the town of Denison and in June, 1881, to a homestead in Antelope Co., Neb. While there they endured a share of the hardships which the early settlers on the plains usually had to face. One year their corn crop was a failure; the next year, the hot winds completely ruined their wheat, so that the following winter corn meal had to take the place of flour. From the first of Nov. until the middle of Apr., Mrs. Seabury baked wheat bread twice, one of the times being for their Christmas dinner. Also, during a part of those early days they had to use prairie hay for fuel, and only those who have attempted to keep up a hay fire can appreciate this difficulty. In the summer of 1882, Mrs. Seabury taught in her own house, the first school held in the district. Mr. and Mrs. Seabury remained on their homestead until they owned it, and also a timber claim of 160 acres. Then, in 1888, in order to send their boys to school, they moved into the town of Plainview, where they have since made their home with the exception of one year (1898-9) in Stuard, Holt Co., Neb., and eight years (1893-1901) in Neola, Ia.

where for a time he held the chair of Engineering. At the time of his death he was a consulting engineer in Kansas City, Mo. He was a Mason in high standing, a zealous and active member of the Methodist church, and a successful business man of unusual ability.

Previous to removing to Kansas City Mr. Farwell had been identified with engineering projects in the East and South. He had given considerable attention to the wood pulp industry and was for a time connected with the International Paper Co. as designing engineer; later he was retained by the Yellow Pine Paper Mill Co., of Orange, Tex. While with this company he installed their evaporating system. Mr. Farwell was a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

4191 FREDERICK HENRY FARWELL[9] (John Dennis[8], Selah[7], Solomon[6], Abel[5], Edward[4], Joseph[3], Ensign Joseph[2], Henry[1]), b. Aug. 5, 1870, near Waterville, Kan.; m. in Marysville, Kan., Sept. 21, 1892, Fanny Adelle Barber, dau. of Charles Augusta and Anna Durfee (Warford) Barber, who was b. Jan. 26, 1873, in Marshall County, Kan.

Mr. Farwell was reared and educated in Marysville, Kan. He removed to Texas in 1893, as a young man, and took with him assets which have materially aided him in winning recognition in his future home. He possessed a spirit of perseverance and a will to do, and also, an inheritance of thrift and ambition from New England forbears. These qualities, combined with intellegence and well directed effort, and close application to business, have in no small way contributed to his success. He has grown to a position of influence and honor in his community and is a leader in all the activites of his home city, Orange, Tex., where he has now resided continuously for nearly thirty-five years.

In 1893 he came as Assistant Bookkeeper to the Lutcher and Moore Lumber Co., of Orange, Tex., and from this position, through successive upward steps, he has risen until in 1920, when he assumed his present place of Vice-President and General Manager of the Company.

During his years with the Lutcher and Moore Lumber Company, he has been closely allied with the Yellow Pine operations, as well as the various associations formed. He was a director for Texas in the old Yellow Pine Manufacturers Association, which was later organized as the Southern Pine Association, and since 1924 has been director for Texas in this Association which represents the largest Yellow Pine manufacturers in the South. It is the dominating factor in the lumber producing section of the country.

Mr. Farwell is a member of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, of which body he is a National Councillor. He is the Director for Texas, since its organization, of the Intercoastal Canal Association of Louisiana and Texas, an organization which is seeing the successful conclusion of an open water way from New Orleans to Corpus Christi.

He is a director of: The Lutcher and Moore Lumber Co., Orange, Texas; The First National Bank, Orange, Texas; The Yellow Pine Paper Mill Co., Orange, Texas; The Orange Car and Steel Co., Orange, Texas; The Gate City Oil Co., and president of Cia. Consolidada de Maderas, S. A., Tampico, Mexico.

During the World War, Mr. Farwell was instrumental in bringing one of the largest wooden ship building concerns operating inthe South, to his home city, Orange, and also helped organize a ship building company of local people, and spent much of his time at this plant.

Always a lover of dogs, in 1900 Mr. Farwell established the Sabine Kennels of Smooth Fox Terriers, and conducted it until 1920, when lack of time to devote to this enterprise caused a dispersal of his dogs. The Sabine Kennels housed on an average two hundred and fifty dogs, and they were prize winners in all the principal shows in this country, and one of the Sabine Kennels breeding became the only American bred English Champion. During the period of Mr. Farwell's interest in the Sabine Kennels he sold Fox Terriers in England, on the Continent, India, South America, Mexico and the Argentine, where they were successful, and the best strains in those countries today are tributary to an outcross with the Sabines.

Mr. Farwell is an elder in the First Presbyterian Church. He has taught a Men's Bible Class in the Sunday School since 1908. He is a member of the following clubs: New Orleans Lumbermen's Club; Houston Lumbermen's Club; Congressional Country Club,Washington, D. C.; The Leash (N. Y.) and the American Fox Terrier Club; of the latter was a member of the Board of Governors from 1902-21; President, 1922-23, and has been Honorary Vice-President ever since.

Immediately after the war and for several years Mr. Farwell was president of the Orange, Texas, branch of the Red Cross Association, and he gives generous support and aid to all forward movements. In business and social life he is found to be unassuming and courteous, and has a marked spirit of camaraderie towards all with whom he comes in contact.

Mrs. Fanny Adelle (Barber) Farwell is a lineal descendant of Thomas Barber, of Windsor, Conn., 1635, and of Elder William Brewster of the Mayflower, and a Hinckley descendant of the family of which Thomas Hinckley,Colonial Governor of Plymouth, was a member. On her mother's side she descends from two old and honored English families, the Warfords of Winford and Nempnett in Somersetshire, and the armorial Weeks family, also of the Mendip country in Somersetshire, many of the name well known and prominent in Bristol, England since early days.

The Warford estate is still owned and occupied by a member of the family. A correspondent writes: "It (the Warford estate) probably is still much as it was when William Warford and Ann (Weeks) Warford occupied it at the end of 1700 and lived there with their children until they migrated to the land of the "Stars and Stripes." I doubt, however, if they have found a prettier spot. The land runs down from Butcombe Court to the farm house and has great rural attractions."

Also on her mother's side, Mrs. Farwell is a descendant of the Hoags, of which the Rev. Joseph Hoag, a distinguished Quaker minister and leader, was a member.

Mrs. Farwell is a woman with many interests, and besides attending to her home, her social duties, and her church, for she is deeply interested in the Presbyterian Church, of which she is a member, and devotes much time to its various activities, she has spent hours in the study of family history. It is largely due to her love of genealogy that the Farwell records which she and Mr. John Dennis Farwell, her father-in-law, had collected; have been elaborated and arranged in book form. She devoted most of her time for a year to the final preparation of this volume for the press, she has personally read and revised the entire book, and collected and arranged the illustrations which appear herein.

Mrs. Farwell is a member of the Mayflower Society.

Children b. Orange, Texas:

5069 I. Constance Adelle b. Dec. 10, 1902; was educated Sullins College, Va.; National Cathedral School, Washington, D. C., and is a graduate of the Commonwealth School of New York City. She was m. MONTPELIER, VT., Oct 14th 1911.

Mrs F. H. Farewell,

My Dear Madam. Yours of the 11th to hand and carefully noted; I see you have gone to head quarters & found that your Great Grandmother Hannah Cummings is found in the unrelated family of Leonard Cummings also that Leonard came from Ireland. the My competitor Rev. George Moore, now deceased, finds much which isn't as he stated viz on Page 474 of his Memorial, that Leonard Cummings stole away from Ireland, but the records of Woburn Mass say he was born there in 1714 the son of Samuel & Elizabeth Shed Cummings also turn his book to Page 474 & compare what he says about my family Then take my book & turn to Page 557 and draw your own conclusions. Since my books came from the press I have found the connection of Leonard Cummings and Isaac the first Cummings to emigrate to New Eng.

Isaac - John 2d - Samuel 3d - Leonard 4th - Isaac 5th - Hannah 6th

Above is your line of ancestors from Isaac Cummings the first Cummings to Emigrate to New England, your Great Grandmother had a sister Betsey who m Elickum Steel and I think then settled somewhere in New York State, do you know anything about them?; After my book was completed and sent out I undertook to start with Leonard Cummings 3d reconcile him with Isaac and I inclose a copy of my work, my typewriter whom was badly worn & has faded but I send you a copy. In a good light you can copy it if you like. What does your Father in law mean when he wrote Hannah Cummings married 1st Joel Hinkley? I don't find that she ever married but once. Let me hear from you after looking over your book & oblige

Mr. Farwell writes: "I came to Osborne (Kansas) with my parents when a baby, in Sept. 1871, was raised in the frontier. My early recollections were of buffalo (bison as they are now called), antelope, etc., that were very plentiful. At one time when we were eating dinner my mother rushed to the door just in time to shut it to keep a buffalo from coming in the house. At another time I went to the harvest field to take some buttermilk to my father, and just as I reached the field a buffalo bull that was being chased and was wounded, and very ugly, came along the road, saw the men and turned on them. My father put me in a shock of wheat and dodged into a cornfield and escaped.

We had Indian scares galore and grew fat on them. During one Indian raid in the western part of the state word was sent along the Solomon Valley that they were coming our way. Nearly every one went to the small towns for protection, but my father owned a big ranch and he and our herders decided to make the stand against the common foe at home. The Indians did not come our way and we children were allowed to grow up to manhood and womanhood with full heads of hair.

My father's children all received college educations and all are church workers. At one time my father and three of his children were superintendents of Sunday schools. My children are both church members. My son has a college education.

I have learned to feel proud of being a Farwell. Am not ashamed to own any of my relatives as they are all energetic, progressive leaders in their communities, and so far as I know in the present trials of our Country they are all very patriotic." (Year 1918.)

Mrs. Rose (Farwell) Chatfield-Taylor d. in Montecito, Calif., Apr. 5, 1918.

"Mrs. Chatfield-Taylor was one of the most interesting and vivid personalities Chicago society has known."

"As a girl and young matron Mrs. Chatfield-Taylor was always interested in athletics, and in 1898 won the western woman's golf championship trophy.

"About 1904 Mrs. Chatfield-Taylor's book binding enterprise, the Rose Bindery, came into being and brought her much space in public prints. For eight years the little shop where Mrs. Chatfield-Taylor worked many hours a day turned out lovely volumes in morocco and levant, and she numbered among her customers many famous persons, among whom was President Loubet of France."

"As Mr. Chatfield-Taylor wrote books it seemed the most natural thing in the world for his wife to give her attention to the proper binding for them and among de luxe editions bound by her was 'The Land of the Castanet,' Mr. Chatfield-Taylor's book on Spain, 'Fame's Pathway,' 'The Crimson Wing,' and others.

"In addition to this talent Mrs. Chatfield-Taylor was a splendid needle-woman."

Mrs. Chatfield-Taylor always took a deep interest in everything relating to the welfare of her native city, Chicago, and was active in philanthropy and many civic movements.

"The first suffrage meeting was held in her town house on Rush Street in 1911—now a historic meeting, for it marked the beginning of the Chicago Equal Suffrage Association."

Arthur Farwell, well known composer and one of the originators of the community singing movement in this country, has been appointed associate professor of music at the University of California. He is the founder of the American Music Society and president of the National League of Community Singing. He was supervisor of musical concerts in New York City for several years, also president of the Community Chorus and vice president of the Civic Orchestral Society. In an address made at Mills College in 1918, Mr. Farwell said: "It (community singing) is the bridge that is trying to reach 97% of the people. The established forms only reaching 3%. It is the spirit of great song to lead people on to great things. Community Music means to meet the great need of the American people at this time when the great emotions, natural and spiritual, are aroused. Community Music is the dynamic force that can put forward any movement in this country. There are song leaders in every camp and they are coming to every community."

Musical Courier, 10-17-18.

In Musical America in 1912, Mr. Farwell had an article on the ethics of ragtime, in which he says, "Popular music is a matter of the feet rather than the soul...There can be good and bad cultivated music. Good cultivated music is faithful to the subtle realities of the cultivated mind, but good ragtime is no less faithful to the crude realities of the uncultivated mind. As to the truth of both to nature, psychologically considered, they are both on a plane of perfect equality, and the difference is one of refinement. As to having a deteriorating effect on them (the people) vulgarities and all, such a claim is absurd, in view of the fact that it is not the music which makes the people, but the people who make the music to suit them. Popular music is not forced upon the people; it is created out of their own spirit." He goes on to say: "This is not a study in pessimism. It is only a picture of conditions at the bottom of the pit, musically speaking .... The bottom of the pit stays at the same level, but that is very different from saying that one must stick at the bottom of the pit."

Literary Digest, August 10, 1912.

By Helen Walker

"The Theater of the Stars. An Artist's dream come true. Up in the San Bernardino Mountains, back of Big Bear Lake, a quarter of a mile from Fawnskin, nature has constructed a theater of her own where stately pines and sculptured rocks form a rare-tapestried back drop. Where still pools and a laughing brook make beauty in the foreground. Where the softest echo of the note of a flute may reach the ear of a spectator in the farthest corner of the ampitheater which will accomodate 50,000 people! The carpet is pine needles and moss, and the ceiling is the star-strewn sky.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"Here it is that Arthur Farwell of Los Angeles, famous American composer, is building the fabric of his dream. For years he has hoped and searched for such a place, where new forms of music and drama could begin to have their being. Last summer saw the beginning of activities there whose future scope cannot be prophesied. Soloists, ensembles, both vocal and instrumental, choruses and other organizations gave weekly concerts at the theater. "The March of Man," a musical pageant play, by Arthur Farwell, written especially for the dedication of the Theater of the Stars, was presented.

"Here in the future, he believes, artists from all over the world will come tolive, and to create new works of beauty with the wind in the pines and the sound of running waters for an accompaniment. Here will be founded a school of art which will be the expression of a new civilization.

"It is a part of the new movement to rescue drama and music from the commercialism of the modern theater, says Mr. Farwell, It is a revival, with a broader scope, of the idea of the Greeks, whose production of a drama was the occasion of a public holiday and was of interest to the entire population, from the lowliest to the highest rank.

Mr. Farwell is the composer of music for the Pilgrimage Play, "Caliban," with Percy MacKaye, the Shakespeare tercentenary masque, produced at the Lewisohn stadium in New York in 1916, with 5000 participants; "Joseph and His Brethren," with Louis Parker; "The Gods of the Mountain," by Lord Dunsany; "California," a masque, Greek theater production, Berkeley, and many other well known masques and pageants.

California has given him the beginning of the realization of his dream, and in return he is laying gifts of music at her feet."

FIRST GENERATION

SAMUEL FARWELL OF MARBLEHEAD, MASS., 1741, AND SOME OF HIS DESCENDANTS

There are very few early records of the members of this branch of the Farwell family. Samuel Farwell and his wife Mary —— were living in Marblehead, Mass., in 1741. They had a family of small children, the older ones probably born in England, one is said to have been born on the ocean while his parents were making the long journey to America, the younger children are recorded as baptized in St. Michael's Church, Marblehead, Mass.

The profession of the father, Samuel Farwell, as given by tradition, was that of a sailor, and he continued to follow the sea after he came to this country, which may be the reason he settled in Marblehead, for it was first and foremost a seaman's town. From the scant records we have of him we learn that he was industrious and frugal.

When his sons grew to manhood they took their little families and migrated to Packerstown, now Nelson, New Hampshire. Here they engaged in farming. One brother, after a few years, removing to Bethel, Maine.

They were home loving, peace abiding, industrious and intelligent men, forceful in character and of great physical strength. Mr. Sewall S. Farwell, a descendant, from whom many of the facts here given were learned, recalled, in an address delivered at a Farwell reunion in 1903, stories his father related of grandfather and great-grandfather; how they could lift and carry great weights, of their chopping down forests and clearing the land for their homes when they removed to New Hampshire; how one of them had separated with ease contestants engaged in fighting; and also of the tender and helpful acts performed in the home, so the wives and mothers could be spared somewhat of hardship, although a frontier life brought many arduous undivided duties to them.

He speaks of the will of one of the sons of Samuel Farwell which he has seen and states that it is written in a strong, clear hand which showed that he had an education such as the New England settlers considered necessary and the right of their offspring, and which made them self reliant men and women.

He also speaks of the splendid courage of these founders of an American family when they were called to arms in defense of the new government under which they were to live. How General Stark spoke of them at the Battle of Bennington, declaring he could drive the enemy into the sea if he had a regiment made up of Farwells.

John, Richard and Absalom Farwell, the sons of Samuel Farwell[1], settled upon their tracts of land in Nelson, New Hampshire, in 1771. John and Richard had married sisters by the name of Pickett, at Marblehead, and some children must have been born to them before they left their homes by the sea to seek their fortunes in the wilderness of New Hampshire. We will never know how they made this journey. There were no wagons in those days and roads had not yet been made. The way had been marked by blazing the trees, and possibly a yoke of oxen drew a rough two-wheeled cart which held the simple household goods, consisting of a feather bed and pillows, linen sheets and pillow cases, some blankets, a spinning wheel, a couple of iron kettles, a dutch oven and a very few other articles. When the way was smooth the wife and babies would ride on top of the load. When it was rough and rocks and steep hills, and swamps and streams, made it almost impossible to go forward, wife and mother would walk and the babies be carried.

So they journeyed until their destination was reached, when the goods were unloaded under some great spreading tree and the axe made the woods resound with a new song as the logs were prepared, and the first primitive cabin, without door, window or chimney, rose from the ground and gave shelter to the little families. It is not necessary to go on with the story, for it has been repeated a thousand times over as the descendants of the men who subdued the New England wilderness moved on to the west, through New York, Ohio, Indiana, and still on and on until a continent was spanned, and the great waters of the Pacific brought to a halt the greatest migratory movement that has occured in the history of the world.

In their new homes the Farwells lived the typical New England life; honest, frugal, industrious, God-fearing; bringing up their families in the "Nurture and admonition of the Lord."

The school house followed the meeting house, and the Farwell is yet to live in this country who has not had a common school education. Comfortable homes have taken the place of the pioneer cabin, and the descendants today of those hardy, fearless men enjoy life in a manner undreamed of in 1741, when Samuel Farwell and Mary, his wife, settled in Marblehead, Massachusetts.

Their descendants have traveled to distant, and more distant, reaches of our country, and are settled in many states, they have taken up various callings and professions, but in so far as can be learned they have always borne the name of Farwell honorably and well, and as they look back proudly on their forbears, so can the members of society about them in the communities where they live look upon them with respect; the representatives of an old and honored name, counted among the sterling citizens in town and country wherever they reside.

"Nelson, New Hampshire lies in Cheshire County, 34 miles south east of Concord, eight miles north east of Keene. Once called Monadnock, No. 6, granted Feb. 22, 1774. Church organized January 31, 1781, Rev. Jacob Foster installed as first pastor. It was called at first Packers Town or Packersfield I think. It is on the height of land between the Connecticut & Merrimac Rivers. Hilly surface, adapted to grazing. A branch of the Ashuelot River rises in the south part of the town. From Long & Hancock ponds rises a branch of the Contoocook River. There are four ponds with mill privileges, with a surface of 1800 acres. In 1857 the town was mainly one of farmers. Plumbago mines yielded more than 200 tons annually. Harrisville, part in Nelson, part in the neighboring town of Dublin, has manufactures; a wooden ware & a woolen & a chair factory, with a meeting house, school house, shops and hotels, etc.

This village was named for Bethuel Harris, a business man of Nelson in 1820. Nelson also had in 1857 three shoe shops & a tannery. Dublin, the next town, was incorporated in 1771, settled in 1762, by three Irishmen who named the town."

FARWELL VITAL RECORDS

Records of the line of Samuel[1] and Mary Farwell (also spelled Farewell). Marblehead Vital Records, Printed 1904.

From St. Michael's Episcopal Church, Marblehead—baptisms—no births:

Absalom, son of Samuel & Mary, bap. Sept. 21, 1741.
Richard, son of Samuel & Mary, bap. Sept. 23, 1743.
Foster, son of Samuel & Mary, bap. June 1, 1746.
Mary, daughter of Samuel & Mary, bap. Oct. 16, 1748.
Robert Farewell, son of Samuel & Mary, bap. Sep. 1, 1754.

Marriages:

John Farewell & Sarah Pickett married Jan. 29, 1765. Family tradition gives his birth as of England, before they came.
Richard Farewell & Susanna Pickett, Dec. 17, 1767.
Mary Farewell & Benjamin Girdler, Dec. 27, 1770.

Baptisms:

Mary, dau. of John and Sarah Farewell bap. Jan. 12, 1766.
Samuel, son of John & Sarah Farewell, bap. at St. Michael's, Oct. 2, 1768.
John, son of John & Sarah, bap. Nov. 18, 1770.
Absalom, son of Richard & Susanna, bap. Oct. 28, 1770.

Baptisms at Peckerstown. From the printed records of Newburyport, Mass. Records of St. Paul's Episcopal church:

Susanna Pickett, daughter of John & Sarah Farewell, bap. in Peckerstown, Sep. 3, 1778.
Richard, son of Richard & Susanna, bap. in Peckerstown, Jan. 29, 1779.

These were records of visits to Nelson, New Hampshire, then called Peckerstown, by the Newburyport clergyman, who was probably chaplain of some Revolutionary company passing through that section, as often occurred during the Revolution, bringing back record of baptisms to the home churches.

From Miss Charlotte Abbott's Notes.

FIRST GENERATION

1 SAMUEL FARWELL[1], and his wife Mary, were living in Marblehead, Mass., in 1741.

Children, baptisms recorded in St. Michael's Episcopal Church, Marblehead, Mass.

2 + I. John b. in England; m. Sarah Pickett.
3 + II. Absalom bap. Sep. 21, 1741; m. (1) Betty Baker; m. (2) Elizabeth Melvin.
4 + III. Richard bap. Sep. 25, 1743; m. Susanna Pickett.
5 IV. Foster bap. June 1, 1746.
6 V. Mary (or Molly) bap. Oct. 16, 1748; m. Benjamin Girdler.
7 VI. Samuel not recorded.
8 VII. Robert bap. Sep. 1, 1754.

"The repeated names of Robert and Foster down the lines leads us to surmise that Mary, the pioneer grandmother, might be a daughter of Robert Foster, and allied to some Scotch line that helped start Dublin, N. H., earlier, than Nelson; hence the "trek" to Nelson on the part of the Farwells. I place Samuel Farwell[1] as west of England, Devon, perhaps a seaman. Mary as a Scot from North Ireland.

No record has been found as yet confirming the descendants of Mary (Farwell) Girdler, nor has the death of Samuel[1] and wife Mary been discovered. It is my opinion that they lived with the daughter Mary in old age, did not own real estate in Marblehead.

Very likely the name, often spelled Farewell in Marblehead, was so pronounced by the family."

SECOND GENERATION

2 JOHN FARWELL[2] (Samuel[1]), b. in 1739, in England, m. Jan. 29, 1765 in Marblehead, Mass., Sarah, dau. of Nicholas and Sarah (Edgecombe) Pickett. Removed to Packersfield, N. H., now Nelson, in 1772. Mrs. Sarah (Pickett) Farwell d. Mar. 3, 1807, Mr. Farwell d. Nov. 21, 1820. He was a soldier and was carried to England a prisoner and returned and lived and died in Nelson, N. H. Tradition says that John was born at sea, and having married into the Edgecombe family was offered the heirship of a fine estate in England, by that name, if he would go there to live; but his near relatives were all living here, so he declined. Many of the family ways were English. His wife and children always called him "Sir" and he always clung to the Church of England.

ESSEX COUNTY RECORDS, MASSACHUSETTS

Essex Registry of Deeds, Salem, Mass.

Vol. 127, page 73

Nicholas Edgecome Pickett, fisherman, of Marblehead, for 6 lbs. 18 shillings, from John Farewell, fisherman, of Marblehead, sells one half the house & land under it & some land adjoining the same in Marblehead, a part of the real estate of our grandfather, Nicholas Pickett, dec., and all well described in detail. On the Widger lot—the street—the Tucker lot—seems to have been a mortgage security for money borrowed, his wife joins Feb. 27 1770-1.

Witnessed by Henry Tewksbury & Sarah Cheever. ack & rec. 1770.

Vol. 128, page 73. Nicholas Edgecome Pickett, same fisherman, same estate, conveys to Richard Farwell, some of it same dates, same description, same record, in 1771.

This does not name any of the other heirs of Samuel & Mary Farwell, nor does it show any residence at the time on this estate; it seems to be a lift over financial difficulties for a brother-in-law to both men, Richard & John Farwell, who later in the year had children baptized at Packerstown, N. H., alias Nelson. This was 16 years after the last record of a birth to Samuel & Mary, which was the last record we got in 1754—seems to end their record in Marblehead so far as published, unless St. Michael's church has some note not included in vital records copied. All gravestones copied show no Samuel nor Mary either.

Vol. 132, page 235.

Nicholas Edgecome Pickett, of Marblehead, fisherman, for twenty lbs, paid by John Stevens, mariner, of Marblehead, conveys one fifth part of the house & lot he bought of Francis Salter & his wife Mary, which fifth was paid to Mary as the heir of her father Nicholas Pickett, late of Marblehead, all described in a deed. And the bounds are on John Farwell's land in this deed all described. And an allusion to a passage way between his share and John Farwell's to be kept open for the use of both sides forever. Wife Mary signs with Nicholas Pickett Jan. 12, 1774.

Witnessed by Edward Bowen & Mary Grandy. Ack. & rec. same year.

Same Vol. 132, next page 236.

Nicholas Pickett, fisherman, John Farwell, fisherman & Wife Sarah, William Ramsdell, fisherman & wife Marian, Richard Farwell & wife Susanna, all called of Marblehead, for 80 lbs, convey to John Stevens, mariner, the other 4-5 of the estate just sold to him by Nicholas Pickett, same description, bounds on John Farwell. All was once the estate of the late Nicholas Pickett, the grandfather, dec. Jan. 12, 1774, same witness. Sarah Farwell was not present at the signing, wherever she was.

Edward Bowen & William Ramsdell vouched for her, also Mary Grandy. No more of these Farwells nor of the Picketts. John Stevens had got the estate & they disappeared off it somewhere. Possibly Sarah, wife of John Farwell, was already in Nelson, while her husband and brother-in-law, Richard Farwell, continued fishing for a while in Marblehead, till the estate was sold off or they had turned over other assets.

3 ABSALOM FARWELL[2] (Samuel[1]), bap. Sep. 21, 1741, in Marblehead, Mass.; m. (1) Betty Baker or Beals? m. (2) Elizabeth Melvin, who was b. Sept. 21, 1741, and d. June 2, 1835, in Bethel, Maine, where he removed about 1788. They lived in Packersfield, now Nelson, N. H., before going to Maine, and were married in Keene, N. H.

Mr. Farwell was in the French and Indian war; he was taken prisoner and carried to England and served in the English Army, then but 19 years of age. He returned to the Colonies and served in the Revolutionary army. He was in the battle of Bunker Hill and at Bennington under Gen. John Stark. Mr. Farwell was very large in stature, and was remarkably strong, especially in the hands. He d. March 18, 1819. (Family record).

"Marlboro, N. H., Sept., 1916.

Mr. H. B. Farwell,
Dear Sir:

My knowledge of Absalom, one of the three sons of Samuel Farwell of Marblehead, Mass., who settled in what is now Harrisville, N. H., formerly Nelson, earlier Packersfield, in 1772 is very limited. My mother, born 1803, dau. of Foster, son of John, told me of seeing one whom she called "Old Uncle Absalom," of his being almost a giant, especially of his hands. He and his brother Richard were in the war of the Revolution, were at the battle of Bennington, Vermont, where they were noted for their bravery. Gen. Stark speaking of them said if he had a regiment of such men he could drive the British into the Atlantic Ocean.

Monument in Memory of ABSALOM FARWELL[2] No. 3, in West End Cemetery, Portland, Maine.

Dates of birth and marriage of the brothers we do not know. John and Richard married sisters by name Pickett. Absalom was said to be in London, Eng., a prisoner when peace was declared, he daring to shout. Afterwards he settled in Maine, leaving married children here. Some descendants by the name of Bridge are said to be living in Sullivan, N. H. Also, at one time, a family named Keith. Probably Rev. J. L. Seward, historian of that town, living in Keene, N. H., could tell of them, should you wish to know about them.

Absalom, son of Richard lived on the same farm as your ancestor, after, 1800, before going west. He and son Zopher finally settled in Iowa. One son of Zopher was M. C., another a merchant in Chicago. My grandfather, Foster, son of John, born in 1773, went to Maine when eighteen years old, probably on a visit, but where I do not know. At any rate he told of making maple sugar in the woods.

John died Nov. 21, 1820, in his 81st. year. Richard not far from that time. They were buried at Nelson. Robert, youngest son of Richard sold his father's farm to my father James Derby in 1823, going west later. Our family in 1872 sold to C. C. Farwell. It has thus always remained in the FARWELL family as has the John F. farm until a few years since, when a splendid city residence was erected on the highest land giving a fine view of Mt. Monadnock. I think the place where Absalom settled is occupied in summer. The town of Nelson will hold its one hundred and fiftieth anniversary next year and wishes a complete record of all its Revolutionary soldiers—where born, died and buried. Where they lived and when they came to town and any certified tradition.

I think the Farwells had a sister living near John who married John Scarlet Newhall, a probable Revolutionary soldier. Of the sons of Richard, Absalom and Robert went west. Benjamin, Richard and Foster to Vermont. Nicholas and John lived at Claremont, N. H. Sons of John, printers in Boston. Samuel, twin to John, lived many years on a farm joining his father's. Mollie, a daughter of Richard, married a Newhall, afterwards a Morgan, and lived in Vermont. Susanna married a Lawrence, and went to Ohio where Robert went, about 1825. Of the sons of Samuel, son of John, Silas and John lived in Illinois. Henry in Ohio, Darius on the home farm of his father and grandfather. Samuel lived near, in Harrisville. Addison in Dorchester, Mass., dying in Maine. John, oldest son of Foster, son of John, lived near Toledo, Ohio. George, Nicholas and Miles in Boston. A family by the name of Farwell from Charlestown, N. H., settled near Unity, Maine, from whom descended a U. S. Senator.

I do not think John was in the Revolutionary war. I heard one of his daughters say, her father being weak and older, made shoes for the army, and besides had to care for the families of his stronger brothers so they could go.

Yours truly,
Sarah M. Gates."

4 RICHARD FARWELL[2] (Samuel[1]), bap. Sept. 25, 1743, in Marblehead, Mass. m. in return December 20, 1775.
Capt. Joel Smith's Company,
Col. John Glover's Regiment, order for a bounty coat or its equivalent in money.
Here too late for Bunker Hill, probably fought by provincial militia before the formation of the Continental Army, so not on pay rolls. He was not in June 1775; perhaps on shore and would prefer naval service, but we had no navy then.
This record sets back Absalom's appearance in records two years to 1775, of Marblehead.
During the War of 1812, Absalom[3] served from Sep. 7, to Oct. 27, 1814, in Portland Artillery, (think organized June 12, 1812)—Capt. Phineas Farnum—Lieut. Nathaniel Babcock—private Absalom Farewell as coast guard.

Homestead near Monticello, Iowa, with Grout House built in 1852 by ZOPHAR FARWELL[4] No. 163.

163 ZOPHAR FARWELL[4] (Absalom[3], Richard[2], Samuel[1]), b. March 23, 1802, in Keene, New Hampshire, m. May 24, 1826, in Keene, Ohio, Betsey Knight, dau. of Joseph and Martha Knight, who was b. May 31, 1804, in New York state, and d. Sept. 20, 1887, in Monticello, Iowa. Mr. Farwell d. April 4, 1883 (obituary in daily paper for date).

Mr. Farwell grew to manhood amid the green hills and rugged scenery of his native state. He had only the educational advantages of the common schools of his day, and his life was earnest and toilsome. When he was twenty-one years of age he left home and made the long journey from New Hampshire to Keene, Ohio, on foot. The country about Keene was rough and hilly. He made his living helping to clear the land. It was arduous work, but he persevered, and by saving the small wage he earned he soon had enough money to buy a small piece of land. That land was the foundation of his future success.

After his marriage he and his wife spent two years in his old New England home, then he returned to Ohio. In 1837 he removed to Schuyler Co., Illinois, but later went back again to his Ohio home, where he remained until 1852. That year he removed west again, taking his family with him, and going this time to what is now known as Monticello, Iowa. Here he obtained a farm and he and his sons built a grout house for a home. They quarried the stone, made a lime kiln, burned the lime and hauled gravel and sand from the river, and made this home of a substance similar to the cement of today, and yet different. It was poured in tiers not more than sixteen inches high at a time, one on top of the other to required height. The walls are a foot and a half thick, the partitions inside the same and built from the cellar up, and it stands today (1926) as solid as when built. The family lived in this house until 1878, and the place was sold in 1886.

"Thomas Farwell of Taunton, New England. I find that he and many others from Taunton, Old England settlers were among the first purchasers of Tetiquet, which includes the present towns of Raynham and Berkeley, Mass. This was in 1636. Thomas was called Mr. showing that he was by descent a man of distinction. He was a man of property. He was a puritan, for he was one of the founders of the Taunton church. He had a son John who went back to England. He probably d. about 1675. His wife Sarah —— d. Dec. 8, 1686. She m. Rev. George Shove, then minister of the Taunton church. He d. Apr. 21, 1687. No other issue of the marriage of Thomas Farwell and his wife Sarah than John is named. I do not doubt that Mr. Thomas Farwell was a descendant of Sir George."

George B. Spalding, Syracuse, N. Y., 1903.

From "American Marriages Before 1699," Clemens, 1926, a Thomas Farwell m. Hannah Rolfe, August 6, 1672, in Chelmsford, Mass.

JAMES HACKLEY (or Hawkley, or Hockley), was b. in Carthage, England, in 1746. Date of arrival in this country unknown. Probably a resident of Peterborough at the beginning of the war, as he was a member of Capt. Alex Robbe's Militia Co., in Jan. 1776. He was m. to BETSEY FARWELL, of Peterborough, by William Smith, Esq., Jan. 27, 1784. He had probably had a military experience prior to entering the American army. It is possible he was a deserter from the British army.

In original rolls Hackley's rank is given as a sergeant on the rolls of Capt. Scott's Company "Minute Men," Apr. 20-23, and in the pay-roll of Aug. 1st; but in the muster roll dated Oct. 6, 1775, his rank is given as private.

"37 Chicora Avenue, Toronto, Canada,
June 28, 1910.

"Dear Mr. Farwell:—

My grandfather came from Vermont after the War of Independence and his father came from England and was killed at Bunker Hill. An uncle of ours had the whole history but on his death no trace of it could be found. Our immediate family has lived at Oshawa, a town thirty miles east of here, all our lives. We are a large family (eleven of us). One brother lives at Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, and is a lawyer. Three live down at Oshawa, two of them on the old homestead. Another is a doctor in the American Navy and is a thorough 'Yankee.' My oldest sister, Souetta, who is a widow, lives with me. That is all of us who are alive.....

I remain, Yours sincerely,

Florence Farwell."

The following records of a Farwell family which settled in the state of Pennsylvania were received too late to incorporate in the main part of the book. From the re-currence of the names, Abel, Lemuel, and James, we conclude they are descendants of Edward[4] and possibly Abel[5] in the Henry Farwell line.

Extract from a letter, 1928

"In way of explanation I will say that my grand-parents on the Farwell side of the house settled at Bakerstown, which is on the opposite side of the river from Hyner, Penn., the railroad station. They lived and died here and are buried in a little plot of ground near my home. No monument or markers to show who they were and not a person living today who knows anything about them. The old log houses where they used to live have long since been replaced with modern buildings. The Farwells as far as I know were all Methodists.

There are a great many of the descendants of the Farwells scattered around here, over 200 at least, but they would be the great grandchildren of the old pioneers.

Very respectfully,
J. N. FARWELL
Hyner, Pa."
